What is LEAP / IDOCDE?

IDOCDE - International Documentation of Contemporary Dance Education

(www.idocde.net) links and supports contemporary dance teachers in Europe through an online database and practical activities.

In the summer of 2013, the 2-year pilot project came to an end with the 1st IDOCDE symposium during Impulstanz / International Dance Festival in Vienna Since the fall of 2013. IDOCDE continues with a new program:

LEAP - learn , exchange , apply, practice is a two year vocational project designed for contemporary dance teachers in Europe, to exchange and discuss relevant practices in teaching methodologies. The project's goal is to widen the range of teaching methods, approaches and target groups for dance teachers by inquiring existing teaching practices. The project is specialised in contemporary dance education and builds on the previous EU project IDOCDE. The goal of IDOCDE was to explore documentation to exchange practices in European Dance Education. LEAP utilises the IDOCDE website to communicate its process and results with the project partners and the general public. LEAP has several activities:

Program 17 of January 2015

The IDOCDE - website and the LEAP activities and opportunities are introduced and information will be provided about LEAP - supported participation at the 3ed
